*Most flights from North America to Europe fly through the night and arrive the next morning, one calendar day later. In order to arrive in Germany on the arrival day, it is almost always necessary to depart on the day before when traveling from North America. We advise students to check the departure and arrival times and dates for the selected flights.

The orientation program starts in the afternoon of the arrival day.

ESC Orientation

In addition to the cultural excursions the ESC conducts an orientation program to help students to get to know each other, the German culture, the ESC faculty and staff. This includes a tour of the ESC facilities to learn where everything in the house is located, where to find staff members, and how to get in the house after hours. Students also attend a tour of the neighborhood to learn how to get to the local shopping area which includes a grocery store, bakery, pharmacy, an ATM, and a few reasonably priced restaurants. Students learn how the public transportation works and where to get tickets, learn where to obtain cell phone plans and minutes, and how to get to the heart of downtown Heidelberg and the major shopping area with all the shops and services one need. Also part of the orientation program, a crash course in German culture and language teaches students about German norms and customs as well as a few useful words and phrases. Finally, the ESC invites students to a traditional 3-course German meal in the heart of Heidelberg to kick off the term.

ESC Academic Program

Courses are held at the ESC. Students are responsible for meeting the add/drop deadlines. The ESC makes every effort to schedule ESC courses Mondays – Thursdays with one of those days being reserved for program excursions. The ESC tries to ensure that students are able to get their first choice of classes, but we ask that students select and obtain pre-approval for alternative classes in case the first choice of classes are cancelled due to low enrollment or in case of a schedule conflict that cannot be resolved. For these reasons all students are advised to hold off on committing to independent travel plans on Fridays until their schedules are finalized.
